U telita's eyes, be blear and gay;
O lipsone warmer language speak,
To him thin siraple yes and may;
O heart! is thy most deep secess,
Be safely, surely hid sway.
This secret, that he may not guest,

They call me beautiful: Alas!
By him unchred for, what care I?
Once I kneit down and kissed the graHis. foot had pressed in passing by;
A muse comuse butterowy
That he had crushed, and left to die,
Still for his saks I treasure up.

O tender Father I le it sin:

To love thy noblest creatures thus,
Although no answering love we win?

Art Thou net ever leading us?

And hase Thou sent this love to me,
To calm my heart tumultons,
And guide me, through my grief, to Thes?

O let me love him to the end Most purely, and perchance some day He'il take my hand and call me friend, Whon time for love is passed away; When eves that shise when he is near Are dim; when golden loves are gray; And Death, the sugel, draweth near.

PANY. An Interesting and Important Meeting.

We take from the Augusta Constitutionalist the following lively account of the meeting of the stockholders of the Port Royal Railroad Company, held two weeks ago in Beaufort .

the stockholders of the Port Royal Railroad Company, held two weeks ago in Beaufort:

The meeting was held in a dilapidated Methodikt chapel. There was what is known as a "high old time" at this convocation. The battle royal seemed to be between the contractors and those of the stockholders who had monopolized the land that fronted the most eligible water courses for the termini of the road. A horrible suspicion had seized upon the Beaufort stockholders, and they trembled lest the road should terminate at what is known as Foot Point, and leave their lands and their town in the lurch. So blinded were they with this idea that not the charter itself, which prevented it, nor yet the fact that it would cause the road to make an absurt and expensive deflection of twenty miles, could convince them to the contracy. Impelled by such a suspicion, there were some racy development as its land monopoly. The sbarpshooting between the Beauforkies and the chief contractor seemed to know the way into everybody's Blue Beard chamber of the heart. Some of his retorts were as telling as unexpected, some were surgical, and others were as good as opera boulde. In mercy we refrant from that looked to an adjournment without an election of officers. A majority of the stoor holders present were atraid of the future power of the contractors, who as the work gradually progressed, would gradually control the 'stock, Hende they wanted to check this, move by keeping in position their old directory. The vote was taken and the contractors lost the day, 'At this point, the afternoon session terminated Then that great American potentate, King Canons, began his reign, preliminary to the night assemblage. If matters progress as anticipated there will be a new shiftle and a new deal. Two directors will be chosen from the Georgia Railroad and two from the Savannah and Charleston Road. It has passed now, let us trust, beyond that possibility of any future failure.

A FEARFUL COLLYERY ACCIDENT,

Explosion of a Mine in Saxony-Over Four Hundred Lives Lost.

A letter dated Dreeden, Saxony, August 5.

Early on Monday morning last, intelligence was received here that at a short distance from this city, upwards of four hundred men had fallen victims to a terrible collegy accident. At first, it was hoped that the numbers, were considerably exagerated, but it is now nearly certain that the figures will prove even greater. 420 or more being absent from the roll-call of Tuesday.

The following are the details are exact as it if possible to arrive at them during the consider.

Among the many distressing cases one hears of, one clone I will mention, that of a poor girl travelling in the same carriage with a friend of mine, who had lost her father, two brothers and a step-brother, her whole family being swept off in one day.

THE NATIONAL LABOR CONVENTION.

The convention met as usual on Saturday and transacted the Showing business before the agournment sine die:

A resolution was adopted to appoint a special committee to organize the colored working men of Poinsylvania into labor unions, with instructions to report their progress to the president of the Enternational Labor Horgress. A resolution was also agreed to directing the president to issue a call for a contribution of five cents per member, to pay the president's salary and to defray such expenses as may be connected with the office.

The Committee on Co-operation reported resolutions recommending to the workingmen and women of the country the imperative necessity of immediately entering into co-operation in the different branches of industry. Agreed to.

Mr. Cameron, of Illinois, effered a series of resolutions opposing the importation of a service race for the purpose of pauperizing the labor of the American workingmen; demanding the abolition of the system of contract isbor in prisons and penitentiaries; demanding the rigid enforcement of the law of Congress of 1862, prohibiting coolle importation, and suggesting a retorn in the manner of erecting tenement houses. The resolutions were adopted.

An election was held for officers of the Con-

An election was held for officers of the Congress for the ensuing year, with the following result: President, Richard Trevellek, of Michigan; first vice-president, A. T. Cavis, of Washington; second vice-president; Colonel Kuhn, of Now York; secretary, H. J. Walls, of Philadelphis; treasurer, A. W. Phelps, of Connecticut.

William J. McCarty, of Penusylvania, offered the following, which was agreed to:

Recoved. That a committee off one from each State be appointed to wait; upon the Legislatures of the several States, recommending the repeal of all laws injurious to the working classes of the respective States, and each committee report to the next general Congress what are the most obnoxious laws in their respective States.

MK. A. O. Cameron, of Illinois, and Mr. Lucker, of New York, were elected delegates to represent the workingmen of this country in the Workingmen's International Convention, to meet in Switzerland.

Cincipnati was chosen as the place for the meeting of the next congress. After the passage of resolutions of hanks to the officers of the congress adjourned.

trangements for Keeping the Course

(From the London Daily News, August 9.) [From the London Daily News, August 9.]

The arrangements of the conservators of the river and the police authorities for keeping the course dear, and preventing either intentional or secidental interference with the contending boats are, if possible, more complete than they were at the last Oxford and Cambridge dontest. The traffic of the river is to be stopped, as between Putney Bridge and Mortlake, from two hours before until after the race. No steamers or other craft will be allowed to ply within the prohibited hours within those points, or will steamers or private boats be allowed to accompany the race. In short, if the regulations which have been described to us are carried out, anything like impediment or foul play will be impossible. But it is clearly necessary that at least seven days' notice should be given to those who are engaged in up-river traffic of the day and hour when these restrictions are to amome in force, or vory serious inconvenience to trade or pecuniary loss to individual traders would be the result. The Harvard crew will probably make their first trial of speed over the entire course early titis week tefore the Oxford men arrive, and as the latter, anxious to afford every courtery and facility, the Americans will be in a position to estimate for themselves their chances of success.

Simmons, at three, dees not seem so at home on the bow side, and he ships his oar in his hands, so that it will not take much of a wave to knock it out. The time is not yet good. Both the new men's rather too quick forward for the others; but, considering that this was their first row together, they went this was their first row together, they went remarkably well. This amount of work does not take with the generality of carsmen who watch their doings, and considering that they have been but twice ever the important has have been but twice ever the whole course. There is no doing that day of the race if they can keep their wind and attempt a tarry strokes per minute over the whole course. YOU TAKE. WHEN YOU ARE EXGAUSTED BY OVERWORK of bead or hand, and feel the need of something invicorating, don't drink whiskey or any intoxicating thing, whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise. Each articles give just as much strength to your weary body and naind as the whip gives to the Jaded horse, and no more. Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to Nerve beaith, and are ALWAYS followed by DEPRESSING BEACTION.

Dodd's Nervine and Invigorator is a TORIO and GENTLE STIMULANT which is NOT attended by REAOTION. What is gains for you is maintains. When it refreshes body or mind, it refreshes with natural strength that comes to stay,
We are not recommending teetotalism in the interest of any faction; but long and extended observation
'teaches at that he who resorns to the bottler for rest or recuperation, will find, as he keeps at it, that he is kindling a fre in his bones which will consume the the flames of perdition. Turn from it. Take a tonic that will refreshe and not destroy. DODD's NERVINE is for sale by all Druggista. Price One Dollar. See Book or Certificates that accompanies each bottle.
